Response to RCE

1. This office action is in response to applicant's RCE received on 11/07/03. are pending on this application. Claims 1 – 6 are pending on this application.

Drawings

2. This application has been filed with informal drawings, which are acceptable for examination purposes only. Formal drawings will be required when the application is allowed.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 11/07/03 with respect to claims 1 and 4 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive because Fig. 8A, 10 of Adrian clearly discloses a switching amplifier of the type wherein one or more references are coupled to a load (32, 60) through gated switches controlled by a pulse-width modulated input signal (24, 52), the improvement comprising: adding a minimum pulse width to a pair of the switching devices, one on either side of the load (See Fig. 3C and Fig. 6A, 6B) to null the common-mode output presented to the load (Col. 3 lines 21 – 27), wherein each pair of switching devices is powered by a common reference (Fig. 10 (56)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2819

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1, 3, 4, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Adrian et al. U.S. patent No. 5,617,058.

Regarding to claim Fig. 8A, 10 of Adrian discloses a switching amplifier of the type wherein one or more references are coupled to a load (32, 60) through gated switches controlled by a pulse-width modulated input signal (24, 52), the improvement comprising: adding a minimum pulse width to a pair of the switching devices, one on either side of the load (See Fig. 3C and Fig. 6A, 6B) to null the common-mode output presented to the load (Col. 3 lines 21 – 27), wherein each pair of switching devices is powered by a common reference (Fig. 10 (56)).

Regarding to claim 3, wherein minimum pulse width is added during the pulse-width modulation of the input signal (Fig. 8A, Col. 8 lines 2 – 20, also see fig. 5 and 6).

Regarding to claim 4, Fig. 8A, and 10 of Adrian et al. disclose an enhanced performance switching amplifier coupling an input signal to a load, comprising: at least one electrically controlled switch coupled to each side of the load powered by a common reference; and a waveform generator (24, 52) operative to perform the following functions: a) control the switches in accordance with the input signal, and b) adding a minimum pulse width to both electrically controlled switches to null common-mode output presented to the load (Col. 3 lines 21 – 27).

Regarding to claim 6, wherein minimum pulse width is added by the pulse-width modulator (Fig. 8A, Col. 8 lines 2 – 20, See fig. 5 and 6).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2 and 5 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Adrian et al. in view of Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA).

Adrian et al. as applied to claim 1 – 4 above disclose every aspect of applicant's claimed invention except for wherein the switches are arranged as differential pairs on either side of the load. However that technique is a well-known and conventional art, as Fig. 1 Prior Art of applicant application has indicated. Therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have the switches amplifier of Adrian et al. as differential pairs switches amplifier taught by Fig. 1 of AAPA, because it is well-known and conventional (Also see Kirn US5610553 for differential arranged pairs switches).

Conclusion

8. This is a continuation of applicant's earlier Application No. 09941187. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
